

Chimineas – Mexican Fire Pots

Our terracotta Chimineas or “fire pots” are handmade from volcanic clay found only in central Mexico. The Chimineas are designed in the traditional manner with a wide-bottom vase and a narrow vertical chimney to direct smoke from inside the pit.

Every single Chiminea “fire pot” is handmade and inspected before being baked and inspected once again before export.

Whether you use the Chiminea as a decorative piece or functional fireplace, it adds elegance to your outdoor area and is suitable for modern and contemporary styled patios or garden.

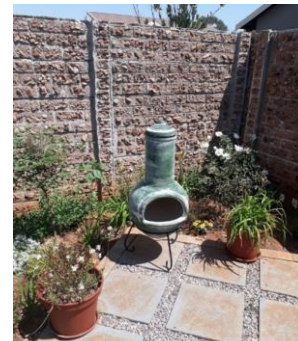

Price List

| Size | Dimensions | Unit Price |
|--------|------------------------------------|------------|
| Small | 400mm in width by 800mm in height | R3900.00 |
| Medium | 400mm in width by 1100mm in height | R4900.00 |
| Large | 650mm in width by 1200mm in height | R5900.00 |

Small Fire Pot

Medium Fire Pot

Whether you use the Chiminea as a decorative piece or functional fireplace, it adds elegance of your outdoor area and is suitable for modern and contemporary styled patios or garden.

Large Fire Pot

Every Chiminea “Fire Pot” comes standard with the following:

- A stand
- Terracotta lid
- Curing instructions

Aromatic woods like cedar, hickory, mesquite or pinon wood are popular choices for the chimenea, which will blow smoke up and out.

As a functional fireplace, the Chiminea is a great space saver without compromising the visual appeal of your patio or the backyard but adding to the pleasure of spending time outdoors.